Calling all actors ...

The Cytringan Players are looking for 4 male actors, and 1 female, who are good at sustaining an Irish accent, for a play in March 2010.

The play, from 10-13 March 2010, is The Weir, by Conor McPherson, to be directed by Rowena Fowler.

The plot, in brief:

“In a bar in a remote part of western Ireland three local men together with the landlord are swapping spooky stories to impress an attractive young woman. What begins as a simple visit to the local pub soon turns out to be an evening of both funny and spell-binding stories.”

The Cyts have engaged the services of an Irish dialect specialist to run a voice workshop during the first week in November, in preparation for the auditions the following week. Dublin-born professional actor Frank Bourke will be leading the workshop, which is open to anyone interested in improving their theatre skills.

Please give Rowena a call if you want to be included, on 01536 511308.
